Designing Your Future: Part 1
Career Planning Workshop and the Use of Individual Development Plans

Students and post docs will learn how to identify and set specific, short- and long-term professional development goals in order to achieve their target careers.

Through the introduction of Individual Development Plans (IDPs), attendees will critically evaluate strengths and weaknesses, identify areas of strategic growth, and formulate a plan for their own uniquely tailored professional development.

Dr. Joerg Schlatterer (manager of the ACS Graduate and Post Doctoral Scholars Office) will speak on four critical pieces of career development, how they relate to your individual path, finding your career “sweet spot,” and how to use available tools to get started on creating an IDP.
