Spring Break 2019. Twelve chemistry majors travel to the remote region of Bocas del Toro, Panama, to embrace nature, conduct field measurements, collect samples, and learn from local communities.

They bring back new experiences, important findings, and new ideas to research pressing issues related to water safety in the region.

Contact Info: arriaga@umn.edu OR bantz008@umn.edu